GREENEVILLE oyal Finders to Hold St. Patrick's Social-Men's Club Meeting-Par-

At a recent meeting of the Loyal Finders it was decided to hold a St. Patrick's social in the vestry of the Federated church Friday evening. The committee has arranged an extensive programme which will be enjoyed by all. There will be musical selections and a very delightful evening is anticipated.

Bliven of Onece Street.

Mrs. Alfred Bliven delightfully entertained the B Natural club at her home on Oneco street Tuesday afternoon, with a large attendance of its members. After an informal gathering, a programme of exceptional merit was given as follows:

Vocal solo, Sea Fever, J. H. Rogers. Miss Ruth Potter; Miss Potter in response to an encore rendered. "If," by Bruno Hulm. Plane sole, At Sunrise, from Desert Suite—by Homer Grunn, and Opt from Moon Mothe, Albert Kusser, Mrs. Charlotte Saxton. Vocal solo, with encore, Dearest, Sidney Homer, and The Gypsy Trail, Tod Gullway, Mrs. Reuben Potter. Plane solo, Polonaise in F Minor, Miss Florine Schofield. Vocal solo, if Love Lies Dead, Ferber, and A White Ross, Seebock, given as an encore, Mrs. Albert J. Bailey. Accompanists for the afternoon's programme were Mrs. Charles Saxton and Miss Florine Scofield.

The cottage prayer meetings this week at the Uncasville parsonage fas more largely attended than any that have been held this year. After the prayer meeting a meeting of the official board was held to plan for the coming social and finishing up the year's business, as there are only two more Sundays in the conference year.

Captain Raymond Burke of the track team has received a very flattering offer from the Yale track authorities to bring a track squad to New Haven May 19 to compete in an interscholastic meet. None of the big schools are able to compete so this is to be primarily a small school meet. The contestants will be entertained by the Yale track team who have no meet on this date. The entertainment includes dinner at the Yale dining hall the race with Cornell, and the baseball game. Captain Burke has not yet fully made up his mind.

The first call for candidates for baseball manager 1915 was posted on Thursday. Clinton S. Jones is manager this year.

Four pens of Rhode Island Reds from four New Eingland states tied for second place for the week with 50 eggs each. These four pens were sent to the contest by Pequot Poultry Farm Southport, Conn., A. W. Rumery, Danwille, N. H., A. Allan, Jr., Newport, R. I., and Pinecrest Orchards, Groton, Mass. Merritt M. Clark's pen of Barred Rocks from Brookfield Center, Conn., Colonial Farm's Reds from Temple, N. H., and Jacob E. Jansen's pen of the same breed from North Haven, Conn., all tied for third place with 49 eggs each.

During the season of high egg yields it is expected by poultrymen that there will be, of course, more soft shelled egs, more inverted oviducts, more egg carrying blood spets and other accidents so to speak of this sort. There is apparently no remedy for blood spots. The only thing that can be done to protect the housewife is candling either by the producer, the groceryman or the egg man before the eggs are finally delivered to the consumer. Plans Underway for Pageant.

Preliminary plans are underway for the presentation of a pageant on the campus of Connecticut college, June 8.

The pageant will set forth the ancient and modern fame of New London as a seaport town. Details of the production are now being prepared by suudents of the English department under the direction of Dr. Marjorie Barstow. The choruses, dancing and similar features will be in charge of Miss Hazei Woodhull, instructor in physical education and culture. Music for songs, the words of which will be original compositions by students, will be the product of Dr. Louis Coerne. The pageant will be on the same line of work, as was produced in Riverside Park, six years ago under the direction of Miss Clara Newcomb, and it is hoped that it will be as great a success.
